

2020/2021

reflect & plan

it's time to reflect.

The theme of 2020 might as well have been “Well, this year didn’t turn out how I expected it to be . . .”

The truth is, I doubt it turned out to be what ANYBODY thought it would be. Some people still managed to thrive . . . but a lot of people found themselves struggling in the New Normal.

We’d love to help you end it well. The next few pages help you guide your own session of introspection.

Pray before you begin filling this out. Allow yourself to be honest, and perhaps to even grieve or mourn over the hard things you experienced this year.

Look through your photo feed and remind yourself of the beauty of life. Yes, it can be super hard . . . but there were good moments, too. Meditate on these and write them down so you never forget.

Make sure to take a picture of all the amazing things God taught you and post on Instagram. Tag us @beloved.magazine!

reflect.

Some of the highlights of my year were . . .

hard things this year

what i learned

attribute of God that meant the most to me prayer requests i saw answered requests i'm still praying for ways i grew this year

theme verse of 2020

theme song/word of 2020

it's time to plan.

We can't constantly dwell in the past or else we'll never be able to build a future. 2021 won't be perfect—we can guarantee that—but we can prepare ourselves to make it a GREAT year.

Goals without a plan are just dreams. So, let's get to it! You're going to need clear, achievable, inspiring goals that you're passionate about and committed to.

You'll also need detailed plans. You may even want an accountability partner!

We're making goals too, beloved. We're right beside you! So, let's start planning together.

Make sure you take a picture of your plans and post them to IG. Don't forget to tag us!

plan.

spiritual goals

devotions

prayer

who i want to be by 2021

mental goals

physical goals

big ways i want to see God work

plan.

ways i want to change lives

my family

my school

my friends

Bible studies for next year

how i work best. journaling? prewritten devotionals? commentaries? what has worked in the past? make sure to check out our devotional series on our blog if you need help (<http://www.ohbelovedone.com/category/soul/devotions/>).

physical goals

plan.

questions i have about the Bible topics i struggle with/need answers on books of the Bible i've never read

use the answers to the previous questions as an inspiration for Bible studies this upcoming year. circle the ones that interest you.

do you need an accountability partner? who will it be?

plan.

theme word for 2021

theme verse for 2021

want more content like this?

make sure to follow us at ohbelovedone.com.

you can also follow us on instagram @beloved.magazine, where we post pretty pictures and thought-provoking, devotional-style instagram captions.